

26TH U.S. PRESIDENT
TEDDY ROOSEVELT
1905

“In a civilized and cultivated country, wild animals only continue to exist at all when preserved by sportsmen. In reality, the genuine sportsman is the most important factor in keeping wild creatures from total extermination.”

Teddy Roosevelt knew that hunting and fishing are crucial to preserving and protecting wildlife. And it's still the case today. Licensing fees from hunting, fishing and sportsmen help keep herds and habitats in check. That's what keeps the land and wildlife we love, more wildly beautiful for all of us.
